Wolves Out To Bowl the Owl

3 Seniors Will See Final Action

The OCE football forces will be playing their last opponent of the 1952 season this afternoon in the annual Homecoming tilt. The Wolves go into the contest with a two and three mark for the year.

A small crop of only three seniors will be seeing their last collegiate action in the game. Jim Dyal, a three-year letterman tackle; Harry Russell, a two-year letterman guard; and John Robinson, full-back, with no experience.

Both Dyal and Russell have been mainstays on the 1952 machine, Jim on offense and Harry, a line-backer, on defense. Dyal carries a lot of weight as his six-foot one frame will show, but uses his 205 pounds to good advantage. Russell totes around the same number of pounds but is forced to do so with two less inches of frame. John, who did not enter college football activities until the current season, has been doing a fine job this year both on offense and defense. Harry will captain the squad in today's game.

The Wolfpack have but two wins this season, but have won the only ones that really count. Victories over Portland State and Eastern Oregon put them atop the Oregon Collegiate Conference standings going into today's game. By winning today's contest the Oregon College crew will clinch the football crown for the third consecutive year.

The above aggregation will represent OCE today in the 1952 Homecoming game with Oregon Technical Institute. The Wolfpack will be going all out to win this game and the conference flag which goes with it. Team members: First

Homecoming Princesses Welcome Alumni Back to Campus, Coronation of Queen To Be Half-time Event This Afternoon

Coronation of one of the princesses below as Queen will be part of the Homecoming game's halftime events. The queen was chosen through a vote of the OCE student body on Friday, November 7, but her identity will not be revealed until this afternoon.

The three queen candidates were selected last week by Varsity "O", an organization of OCE Varsity Lettermen.

PRINCESS ALICE HARDIE

"A little girl with a lot of charm" might well be an expression to describe brown haired, hazel eyed Alice Hardie, OCE queen candidate chosen from the junior class. Princess Alice is 20 years old, five-ft. four-in. tall and weighs 107 pounds. She comes from Dayton and is now attending OCE for her third year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Hardie of Dayton.

Alice is now practice teaching in the sixth grade at the Monmouth elementary school. She plans to be out in the teaching field next fall. She has always been a very active person in school organizations. She is now a member of Collecto Coeds, Sigma Epsilon Pi and FTA. Princess Alice has much enthusiasm for music and dancing. She is a fine organist and has presented several recitals.

Alice's activeness was also present in her high school days at Dayton where she served such important positions as annual editor and was selected as May Queen.

PRINCESS BETTY BEIGH

"Lovely to look at," is an expression which very well describes Betty Alice Beigh, freshman Homecoming princess. Betty is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beigh who reside in Milwaukie, where Betty completed four years at Milwaukie high school, graduating in the upper 10 percent of her class.

This 18 year old princess has dark brown curls and expressive eyes of green. To say that Princess Betty has all the characteristics desirable for a queen candidate is most certainly true as can be evidenced by her past record in high school where she was honored by being selected as queen of the March of Dimes.

Also during high school Betty held positions on the rally squad, yearbook staff, and was vice-president of FHA and secretary-treasurer of the dramatics club.

Betty is enrolled in the teacher training program here and plans to work toward kindergarten or primary teaching.

PRINCESS BETTY MAY CRITES

Beautiful dark brown eyes and short light brown curls are the first things noticed about OCE's Homecoming princess from the junior class, Miss Betty May Crites.

Betty May is a transfer student from Willamette university where she was enrolled after graduating from Newberg union high school. This princess is now 21 years of age being born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Crites in McMinnville on May 4, 1931.

Miss Crites employs much of her spare time working on her hobby which is making hooked rugs. If one should drop in on our fair princess at her Monmouth home some evening, she would probably be found studying educational courses or making rugs. Betty May wants very much to become an elementary school teacher.

This brown eyed princess is engaged to a fellow from Eugene who has evidently realized the fine qualities that are combined to make OCE's candidate for queen.

Tonight's Dance Theme 'Tomorrow'

The annual Homecoming dance will be held in the OCE gymnasium this evening, Saturday, November 8, from 9 to 12 o'clock. The dance is semi-formal. For a theme this year the committees have chosen "Tomorrow." Decorations are a forecast of the future and are in keeping with modernness.

Glen Williams' band from Salem is supplying the music for the Homecoming affair. At intermission the OCE girls' trio, Marilyn Hall, Kathy Miller and Barbara Callaway, will sing several selections. The Homecoming Queen, crowned at the afternoon game, will reign at the dance and will be introduced at intermission.

Alumni are invited and especially welcome to attend this dance which is annually presented for their enjoyment.

Students who have contributed much toward making this dance possible are: Mary Ann Hudson, Bradley Rislove, Frances Williams, Ruth Troyer and Joan Roner.

Play To Be Presented November 19 and 21

Sue Moberg will play the role of Joan of Arc, the 19-year old girl who has now become a dramatic and historical legend, in OCE's production of Maxwell Anderson's drama about France's most famous heroine, "Joan of Lorraine," which will be presented in the Campbell hall auditorium for two performances on November 19 and 21.

The role of the Maid of Orleans is one which has held out a challenge to some of the theatre's greatest actresses and about whom over 30 plays, poems, operas, books and motion pictures have been made. The most recent actress to portray Joan on the stage and in films is Ingrid Bergman, who played the part in the Broadway production of "Joan of Lorraine"

Students Asked To Save Lives

The Red Cross blood mobile will be on the OCE campus Friday, Nov. 14. Donations will be accepted at the gym between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Men under 21 years of age and unmarried women under 21 years of age must have permission of a parent or guardian before contributing. Necessary forms will be put in student post office boxes November 7. These must be mailed to parents or guardians and returned before Friday, November 14.

Students are urged to make donations before leaving the campus on the week-end. Donors should not eat fats at the noon lunch before contributing. Cards stating blood type of donors will be mailed (Continued on Page Three)

Grads Are Invited to All American Formal

The date for the annual All American Formal has been set for Saturday, November 22, at 9 p.m. The dance is sponsored jointly by Staff and Key and Varsity "O" and will be in the PE building.

There will be entertainment during the intermission and the All American, an outstanding OCE athlete, chosen by Staff and Key for this distinction, will be announced.

Music will be provided by OCE's eight piece band.

Admission will be $1 a couple for members of OCE and $1.50 for all other couples. Alumni are invited to return for this dance.

Mr. Waldo Wolf, the animated critter above, was voted last week to be the official emblem of that nature for Oregon College of Education. He will appear on the cover of several campus publications. Stickers, book covers, etc., will be patterned after him. Ed Fitzsimmons, OCE student, drew the animated fellow.

WELCOME HOME!

We at OCE always look forward with real pleasure to welcoming our alums at Homecoming, as well as other times.

I personally hope you have a grand time renewing acquaintances with other alumni and with our faculty. It is a real pleasure to have you back on the campus again.

OCE depends upon you to represent the college wherever you may be working in Oregon. Your loyalty and support is greatly appreciated always, as we work together for a greater Oregon College of Education.

Cordially,
ROBEN J. MAASKE, president

HI, GRADS!!!

A hearty welcome to you from the Homecoming Committee of 1952. We hope you take special notice of the improvements on the campus and the displays set up for your enjoyment in the art department and the library.

Enjoy the game, coffee hour, and banquet, then top it off by taking in "Tomorrow" at the Homecoming Dance.

Mary Ann Hudson,
Homecoming Chairman

In The Art Gallery

Cascade Artists have been invited to hang a water color exhibit in the new art department in Campbell hall at OCE, beginning Nov. 6 for 10 days.

The exhibition will include paintings by: Ruth Grover, Roads End; Marian Hendricks, Taft; Earl Nelson, Nelscott; Hebert G. Rydell, Willamina; and John Ulrich and Jim Colley, both of Wecoma Beach.

Ruth Grover, adviser of the group, was graduated from University of Michigan and studied at Detroit school of applied art and at the Meininger Foundation, also in Detroit. Marian Hendrick, now teaching at Delake, is an alumna of OCE and John Ulrich and Jim Colley are at present students of the college. Earl Nelson operates the Lincoln Book Shop and Rental Library at Nelscott. Herbert G. Rydell, a former mining engineer, is now active in the lumber business in Willamina.

The gallery in Campbell hall is open to the public each day, except Sunday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The public is cordially invited to view the exhibit.

Eight Thousand Is Rehabilitation Cost

Several rehabilitation projects for the Oregon College of Education were approved by the State Board of Higher Education last week in the amount of $8170.91, according to Dr. Roben J. Maaske, president.

The projects include the removing of the present building drains

Comedy To Be Given Again in Thirteenth

The newer members of Crimson "O" presented a one-act play entitled "Grandma Pulls the Strings" for the benefit of the other club members Wednesday night in room 225 of Campbell hall. The cast consisted of: Grandma Blessington, Elaine Irwin; Mrs. Cummings, her daughter, Kathy Hansen; Hildegarde Cummings, Dot Walters; Julia Cummings, Bev Jorden; Nola Cummings Beaver, Karen Woll; and William Thornton, Bud Long. Jim Beck was director. The play has a tentative date to be presented in Maple hall Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

We All Know Him

"Versatile," may be the best word to describe a tall, gray-haired professor here at Monmouth. He may be found playing pinochle in the recreation hall, enjoying a good cigar, playing the tuba in the school band, or defending the Republican party.

He jokingly tells of the time he bet his class coffee and doughnuts that the Republicans would win the election — and remembers how the whole class fled into the Rec hall to collect.

Have you guessed who he is yet? Beginning his 28th year on the campus, he has taught thousands of students Oregon History believing that every teacher should have pride in and a good background in the state's history.

"Gosh, I like to teach," he remarks, "but considers correcting papers a necessary evil."

Since the beginning of time he has claimed room 111 in Campbell hall as his hang-out. He adds that the same old clock even counts time in his classes.

Advising the men's honorary, Theta Delta Phi, spending time on American Legion activities, or deep in his many varied interests in sports are the ways this popular professor spends his leisure time. He may even be found feeding the ducks in the back yard of his home along the mill stream in Salem.

Who is this professor on whose office walls hang maps?—The Bill of Rights may be stacked on his desk—books toppled out of line reflecting a nonchalant manner?

Are there any alums returning to the campus or students now enrolled who aren't familiar with Professor Oscar Christensen — better known as just "Christy?"—L.M.

Rules for Activity Plans Are Announced

Howard Sullivan, clubs commissioner, has pointed out that any organization wishing to sponsor an organized student social function of any kind must first fill out a "proposed student activity plan" and submit it to the social commissioner of the student body, Eleanor Fulmore, at least a week or 10 days in advance of the proposed activity.

Since the plan must be submitted to the student council it would be better to get it in at the earliest date so that there will be more time to work on it for those planning the activity. Blank forms for these plans may be obtained in Miss Seavey's room or from Eleanor.

from the city sewer and providing surface tile drainage, to comply with city ordinances; rearranging handball courts in the physical education building and providing storage facilities; resurfacing the tennis courts; and minor improvements in the elementary school building. These projects are scheduled for completion during this college year.

Did You Know That

The Japanese Council assembly scheduled for November 24, has been rescheduled for December 1.

The student welfare committee will meet November 13 at 7 p.m. in the faculty lounge.

Mr. Lieuallen and several faculty members who are a part of the high school visitation program attended a work-shop on the Oregon State college campus on October 31.

The dormitories will have open-house on Saturday, November 8, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Couples may have their pictures taken at the Homecoming dance. Price for one pose, two five by seven inch prints, is $1 and 50 cents for any extra prints from original negative. The pictures will be taken at the northeast corner of the gym. Cash must be in advance.

The regular meeting of the Co-Wed club will not be held Tuesday, November 11, because of Armistice Day.

Displays by the Monmouth elementary school are being put up in Monmouth store windows in preparation for National Education Week, which is from November 9 to 15.

Any student who has free time between 6 and 8 o'clock this evening, Saturday, November 8, is encouraged to help decorate for the big Homecoming dance.

Dr. Maaske is leaving Sunday, November 9, for Chicago.

Dr. Frank G. Williston will speak at an assembly at 2 p.m. on Monday, November 10, on the present situation in the Far East. Classes in the afternoon will be shortened as follows: 5th period, 1 to 1:45; assembly, 1:50 to 2:25; 6th period, 2:30 to 3:10; 7th period, 3:15 to 3:55; 8th period, 4 to 4:40.

Wolf Calls will again be on sale for 35 cents from Monday, November 10, to Friday, November 15. A number of students have not yet bought their guide to students' names and addresses.

for 200 performances and more recently starred in a movie based on the martyr's life. Other actresses who have scored personal triumphs as the maid who raised the siege of Orleans and crowned the Dauphin King of France, include Sarah Bernhardt, Eva LeGallienne, Katherine Cornell and Maude Adams.

Other roles in the OCE presentation of Maxwell Anderson's modern treatment of this classic theme, which he has written in the form of a "play-within-a-play," are John Ulrich, who will act the part of Jimmy Masters, the stage director as well as the Inquisitor who condemns Joan to death; Tom Dick Harry as the Dauphin, later King Charles VII of France; and Elmer Sankey who will appear as Dunois, Bastard of Orleans.

Reed Art Professor To Give Lecture Here

Kappa Pi, the OCE art honorary, is sponsoring a lecture and demonstration by Professor Reynolds, head of the art department at Reed college, to be held at 8 p.m. on Nov. 14, in the art museum. Professor Reynolds will speak on the topic, "The History of ABC's for Colleges" after which there will be a social hour.

Professor Reynolds has been presented to numerous colleges and civic groups throughout the Pacific Northwest and is much sought-after by all who know of him.

The social-educational activity is the first of a series planned by the social commissioner and the assembly committee to add variety to the activity program for all OCE faculty members and students. The continuation of this program will depend on the participation in the activities.

The team at the right is the 1923 version of the Oregon College of Education gridiron talent. This team, the first in modern school football history, failed to win a game in four tries. The names and faces are forgotten to most of us, but we can remember them as playing in the days when football was played for the sport and fun found in the game.

OCE Gridiron Powers Show Fine Records Over Past 29 Seasons

By Foggy Fitzwater

With a few minutes to spare the other day I glanced through the old Lamrons and found some interesting facts in the form of statistics about the past records of the OCE grid powers.

Modern history along this line dates back only to 1923 so records and statistics are for that 29 year period of 1923 through 1951.

During that period 26 teams started the season and, surprisingly enough, the same number finished their respective seasons. This they have done in fine fashion by winning 115 games, losing 72, and tying 11 for a .615 percentage.

As is the case with most ball clubs, the OCE crews have had their ups and downs. One season, 1923, they failed to win a game in four tries, while in 1940, 1949 and 1951, they came through the season undefeated.

Their longest undefeated streak was of 13 games duration, while five is the most they have played in succession without winning.

The Linfield Wildcats hold first and second slots in the matter of severe drubbings. The Wildcats waxed the OCE crew 56-0 in 1926, and, as if that wasn't bad enough, administered an 83-0 shellacking the next year.

However, the Wolves have one to top both of those defeats. In 1934 they eased past a stubborn St. Martins college team 101-0. That same year the Vancouver Barracks team was bounced 74-0.

There have been two great periods of football since 1923. One was under Larry Wolfe and the other is still making history under Bill McArthur.

Wolfe, the man who gave our athletic teams their nickname, came to OCE in 1928 and coached seven seasons, leaving because of illness in 1934. During that period his teams won 34 games while losing 13 and tying five. The effect of Wolfe's coming is evident by comparing some scores. He came to the campus from Linfield where he had piloted the team that had drubbed the OCE crew 83-0. The next year while at OCE his team topped Linfield 29-0.

McArthur came on the scene in 1947 and since then has won 30, lost 10, and tied two, up until the start of this season. Chief feathers in his cap have been two undefeated seasons.

Hoop Squad Faces 25 Game Slate

The OCE basketball forces will have quite an array of talent to overcome during the coming 25-game season. Not only will they face tough competition in conference play, but they meet some powerful units from other loops.

Pacific university opens the season for the Wolves and will be the first of seven games the OCE quintet will play with teams of the Northwest conference. Willamette university, Lewis and Clark and Linfield colleges join P.U. as N.W. loop foes.

Conference play will commence on January 16 when the Wolves meet Portland State here and winds up on February 21 with Eastern Oregon College of Education, also here. Portland State (Vanport) copped the casaba flag last year with OCE, OTI and EOCE finishing behind them in that order.

Two games with Seattle Pacific college will close out the season.

One or two exhibition games with traveling teams will also be scheduled during the season.

MIDWAY BETWEEN MONMOUTH, INDEPENDENCE

Intramural

Vets' Village nabbed its first win and Mammy's took their second contest in the week's intramural play. The old men tripped an undermanned West House crew 24-20, while the Mammy's squad romped over Arnold Arms 38-6.

The Solemn Sons, hit by the opening of basketball practice, were forced to play with but four men throughout all but two minutes of the first half in which the Village built up an 18 point margin. Jim Riggs ran over two TD's and Dale Cannon passed to Lawrence Miller for the other.

Ed Montgomery paced the late W.H. drive as he entered the game in the second half. Montgomery ran for two scores and added two bonus points. He figured in the final score as he passed to Harry Pease with a minute remaining. Jim Riggs tallied the last V.V. score in the third period.

Lynn Houston passed and ran the Mammy's squad to their decisive win as he flipped five aerals for counters and ran 60 yards for the other. Leroy Higgins was on the receiving end of three passes, Frank Maxwell took one and Gil Little the fifth. Maxwell booted one conversion and passed to Little for the other two.

A pass from Dick Jones to Nick Bolas netted the A.A. boys their only score.
